WELCOME TO AUCHENDARRROCH HOUSE

Nestled amidst the serenity of the Adelaide Hills, a mere 20 minute drive up the freeway, lies the enchanting Auchendarroch House. With its picturesque heritage gardens, this historic abode was once known as the Oakfield Hotel, and now bears the name “Auchendarroch” a Scottish-Gaelic term for “holy place of the oaks.”

The Wallis family has lovingly transformed Auchendarroch House into a stunning venue and award-winning heritage garden.

Auchendarroch House hosts a diverse array of events throughout the year. From intimate gatherings to grand galas, from weddings to corporate events and private parties, Auchendarroch House’s function rooms provide the perfect ambiance for any occasion.

Come and see everything Auchendarroch House has to offer.
